But as she was eating, a sly fox came along. He saw the crow with the cheese and he wanted it for himself.

The fox knew that he couldn't just take the cheese from the crow. So he started to flatter her.

"My, what a beautiful voice you have," said the fox. "I've never heard anything so sweet."

The crow was so vain that she couldn't resist showing off her voice. She opened her beak and let out a loud caw.

As soon as the crow opened her beak, the cheese fell out. The fox quickly snatched it up and ran away.

The crow was so upset that she had lost her cheese. She learned a valuable lesson that day: don't be vain and don't take things for granted.

Moral of the story

The moral of the story is that it's important to be humble and not take things for granted. If you're not careful, you could end up losing everything.
