The Bunny Who Found His Purpose

John was just an ordinary bunny, living in an ordinary burrow, until one day, everything changed. It was Easter morning, and John was hopping around the meadow, looking for some tasty carrots. But instead of carrots, he found something extraordinary: a huge, colorful egg.

John had never seen anything like it before. He nudged it with his nose, and it wobbled back and forth. Curiosity got the better of him, and he cracked it open. Inside, he found a tiny chocolate bunny.

John was amazed. He had never seen a chocolate bunny before, either. He took a big bite, and it was the most delicious thing he had ever tasted. John ate the whole bunny in one go, and then he looked around for more eggs.

He found several more eggs, all filled with different kinds of chocolate bunnies. John ate them all, and soon he was feeling very full and very happy.

As John was hopping back to his burrow, he saw a group of children running around, looking for Easter eggs. John had an idea. He hopped over to the children and offered them some of his chocolate bunnies.

The children were delighted. They had never seen a bunny giving out chocolate bunnies before. They thanked John and asked him his name.

"I'm John," he said. "And I'm the Easter Bunny."

The children laughed and cheered. They had found the Easter Bunny!

John spent the rest of the day hopping around the meadow, giving out chocolate bunnies to all the children he met. He was so happy to bring joy to the children, and he knew that he had found his true calling.
